French Police Diverted For Anti-Red Drive

MARSEILLE, Nov. 17—Heavy detachments of French mobile guards took up positions today in the closely-guarded Marseille courthouse, leading to the belief that police soon may launch widespread operations against Communists who led last week's rioting.

Machine guns were placed strategically about the courthouse, which bristled with rifles. Through the windows could be seen sentries armed with tommy-guns.

No judicial tribunals functioned in Marseille today, indicating that all available police had been diverted for the forthcoming operations.

Leaders of the Communist-led Confederation of Labor (CGT) are believed marked for early arrests. Lucien Molino, departmental CGT chief and a man named "Brunero" — who heads the Marseille truck drivers union — are among those expected to be taken into custody.

IN MARSEILLE'S strike-bound harbor, meanwhile, one billion francs worth of merchandise is rapidly deteriorating. Eleven hundred tons of oranges already have spoiled and 2,400 tons of meat are spoiling.

By tomorrow, the strike is expected to spread to hotels and cafes.

Last night, French troops and police questioned 300 more persons in the strike-bound port after an earlier comb-out of suspected trouble-makers resulted in the temporary detention of 1,500 persons.

During the all-night search, gendarmes visited bars and dance halls in the huge port city, which has been the scene of violent Communist-led riots and widespread strikes.

ITALIANS FEAR NEW RED MOVES

Second Munition Explosion Believed Behind Plan To Oust Premier

ROME, Nov. 17—Italy's second munition blast in three days heightened official apprehension today that Italian Communists may be preparing action more drastic than the widespread riots which for days have been the government's main concern.

The London News Chronicle, in a dispatch from Rome, said the Communist party executive issued an eight-column manifesto demanding overthrow of Premier Alcide de Gasperi's regime.

Authorities launched an immediate investigation after the munitions depot near Vigevano, southwest of riot-ridden Milan, was demolished in an explosion. Two persons were killed and 20 wounded, 12 of them seriously.

SABOTAGE, which had been thought of only as a possibility when on Thursday night a similar explosion occurred in the Brescia area, was definitely suspected.

The blast climaxed a weekend during which Communist mobs stormed right-wing party headquarters and burned newspapers in at least 15 cities, ranging from industrial Lombardy to the heel of Italy.

At least three persons—including one policeman—were slain during rioting at Cerignola, in the Bari area. Many persons were injured in the South Italian demonstrations.

Police stations and government party offices in several towns were attacked by Communist-led crowds, and trains and buses halted in many areas.

Many Visitors View Circus Lodged Here

Many residents of Circleville and vicinity visited the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Sunday to view the Mills Brothers circus at its Winter quarters.

Most of the show arrived in Circleville late last week from Port Arthur, Tex., and the remainder is expected to reach the Fairgrounds in a day or two.

Circus spokesmen explained that some of the animal acts are not owned by the circus and that these will not Winter in Circleville. Instead, some of the acts will be staged through the Winter months by their owners at points in the South.

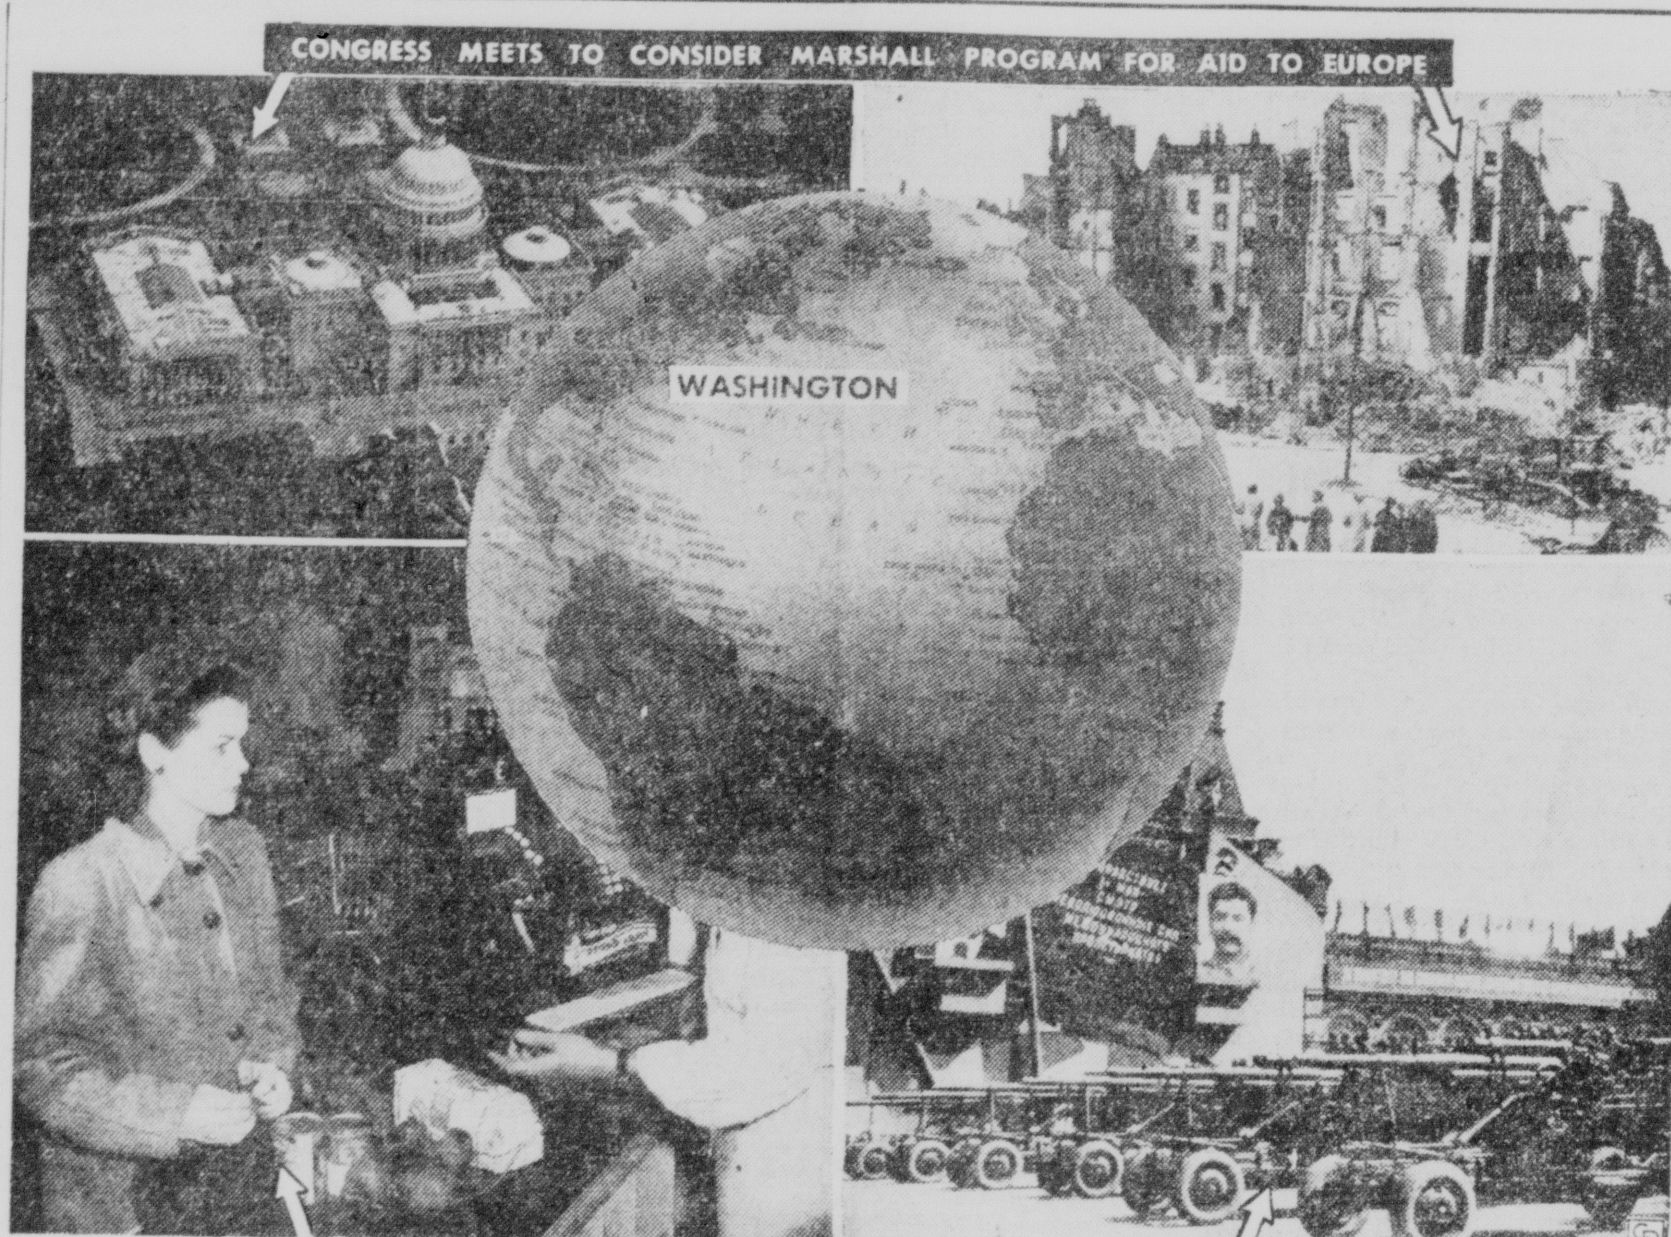

Among the animals quartered at the Fairgrounds is "Big Burma", trained elephant said to be the best elephant act in the world.

The show will remain in winter quarters until about April 15 and the owners have announced the public will be admitted free to view the menagerie and other show property.

Mills Brothers is one circus which never presents a performance on Sunday. Furthermore the circus has its own preacher. He is the widely known "Doc" Waddell, now 84 years old, whose life hobby has been circuses and circus folk.

"Doc" Waddell has officiated at marriages of many circus people, he has baptized dozens of circus children.

On Sunday, when he conducts religious services including Sunday school for the youngsters, he sometimes uses a circus ticket booth for a pulpit.

CONGRESS MEETS TO CONSIDER MARSHALL PROGRAM FOR AID TO EUROPE

WASHINGTON

HOLD PRICES

CHECK COMMUNISM

CONGRESS CONVENES IN SPECIAL SESSION today to hear a personal message from President Truman asking two things: Immediate stop-gap aid for Western Europe and powers to curb inflation at home. Authorities to allocate basic commodities in the U. S. will be asked immediately while a detailed outline of the controversial Marshall Plan is expected in a second message to the special session. The chief executive faces a Republican-controlled congress believed ready to act speedily on his plea for aid abroad as a check against Communism, but reluctant to approve a price program which might reflect wartime regulations.

'FAIR' HUNTING GREET'S NIMRODS

No Accidents In Pickaway Reported; 5 Hunters Fined $15 Each

With hunting described as "spotty" Monday in the Circleville area there were many hunters in the fields and woods. The supply of rabbits was reported as only "fair" although birds were reported numerous compared to last season.

Up to noon Monday no hunting accidents had been reported in Pickaway county. A few complaints of trespassing had been made by farmers. Fields were wet and general hunting conditions unfavorable.

Late in the afternoon on Saturday, the first day of the hunting season, five Middleport men were nabbed by Fish and Game Protector's Clarence Francis, Circleville, and Wallace Laird, Newark, who charged each with hunting after 4 p. m. in violation of state game regulations which fix hunting hours from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Last year, the season ran until 5:30 p. m.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harold O. Eveland, the Middleport hunters were fined $15 and costs each. They are: O. P. Klein, P. H. Van Cooney, Richard Reuter, Wallace Russell and Norman Dechard.

Blasts, Flames Level Huge Ammo Dump In Japan; 2 Said Killed

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 17—A series of explosions and resultant flames destroyed one third of the U. S. Army's vast ordnance depot at Zushi today, killing at least two persons and injuring several others, according to Japanese police.

Among the injured was an American Army officer, Capt. Stanford Hicks of Philadelphia, who was hit in the leg by flying shrapnel.

A Japanese inspector reported he had seen two or three American soldiers supervising 40 to 50 Japanese laborers working around seven Zushi munitions warehouses before they were blown up. He said he believed all were killed.

The U. S. Army refused to confirm this report. The Army however withdrew an earlier announcement that all American soldiers at the scene had been accounted for.

Lt. Col. O. A. Ramnes of Ada, Minn., announced later that a roll call had showed all members of the 55th and 630th Ammunition companies, stationed at Zushi, "present or accounted for."

THIS RULED OUT the possibility that any Americans, regularly posted at the depot, had been killed, though it did not exclude the possibility that some Americans visiting the arsenal may have been caught in the blasts.

Ramnes reported that 450 American soldiers, aided by Japanese, were making good progress tonight fighting grassfires around the wrecked munitions warehouses to prevent their spread to other areas where rockets are stored.

American military personnel and dependents living at an Army hotel three quarters of a mile away were evacuated when exploding shells and spreading fire threatened the district.

Hours later the evacuees were returned to the hotel as the Army said the city of Zushi itself was no longer imperiled.

Two thousand Japanese residents of villages adjoining the ravaged arsenal were moved to safer areas.

THE CAUSE of the blasts has not been determined. The original explosion was believed to have occurred in a stockpile of 81-millimeter mortar shells.

WARREN CLAIMS GOP PRESIDENT TO BE CHOICE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 17—California's Gov. Earl Warren was on record today with the prediction that America's next president will be a Republican.

Warren, an avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, made his forecast at a Sacramento news conference in commenting on reports his name might be submitted on the Democratic presidential ticket in the California primary election next year.

The California chief executive pointed out that the "people placed the legislative branch of the federal government under the guidance of the Republican party in 1946, and I believe in 1948 they will entrust the Republican party with the executive branch of the government."

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 17—Two former Wisconsin reformatory inmates were hunted today in connection with the reported murder of a University of Wisconsin student and criminal assaults on his sister-in-law, a University of Michigan co-ed.

Sheriff Loren E. Marshall of Richland county said the co-ed, Janet Ann Rosenblatt, 19, of Cleveland Heights, O., identified photographs of the hunted pair as those of the men she reported had killed her brother-in-law.

She said the slaying took place in the automobile, the men were driving. The men attacked her several times, she said, while riding through the countryside.

Authorities still were searching for the body of the missing student, Carl L. Carlson, 25, of Superior, Wis. His body reportedly was dumped into a river by the slayers.

Sheriff Marshall identified the man sought as Buford Sennett, 22, of Richland Center, Wis., and Robert Winslow, 23, of Owen, Wis.

Rationing Of Items In Short Supply Is Urged By President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—President Truman personally asked congress today for broad peacetime powers to control prices and wages and to restore consumer rationing on commodities in short supply should this be necessary.

The chief executive, addressing an historic special session called to cope with high prices at home and dire economic crisis in Europe, urged swift enactment of interim foreign aid legislation and machinery for halting a disastrous inflationary spiral in the United States.

The President declared: "The future of the free nations of Europe hangs in the balance. The future of our own economy is in jeopardy."

Mr. Truman, in his domestic program, called for three basic steps:

1. Relief of monetary pressures.
2. Action to channel scarce goods into the most essential uses through "industrial rationing."
3. Direct action dealing with specific high prices.

Mr. Truman presented a 10 point "anti-inflation" program: "1. To restore consumer credit controls and to restrain the creation of inflationary bank credit.

"2. To authorize the regulation of speculative trading on the commodity exchanges.

"3. To extend and strengthen export controls.

"4. To extend authority to allocate transportation facilities and equipment.

"5. To authorize measures which will induce the marketing of livestock and poultry at weights and grades that represent the most efficient utilization of grain.

"6. To enable the Department of Agriculture to expand its program of encouraging conservation practices in this country, and to authorize measures designed to increase the production of foods in foreign countries.

"7. To authorize allocation and inventory control of scarce commodities which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production.

"8. To extend and strengthen rent controls.

"9. To authorize consumer rationing on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living.

"10. To authorize price ceilings on products in short supply which basically affect the cost of living or industrial production, and to authorize such wage ceilings as are essential to maintain the necessary price ceilings."

The President also called for voluntary action by the nation to hold down prices in addition to the imposition of actual price ceilings.

Mr. Truman declared that if price ceilings are to be imposed wage increases also must be subjected to control.

He asked specifically for government authority to regulate (Continued on Page Two)

MEYERS NAMED FIRM 'OWNER'

Former Accountant Reveals General's Tie To Ohio Company

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—The senate war investigating committee was told today that Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers was the "real owner" of a Dayton, Ohio, electrical firm which secured wartime contracts on Air Force projects.

Berliot H. Lamarre, former $38-a-week accountant who said Meyers hired him "to protect his financial interest" in the firm, testified that all the money invested in the Aviation Electric Co., was the general's, despite stock certificates issued to others.

Lamarre said most of the stock was issued to a "June Ballou" whom he identified as a dummy stockholder. The witness added that the stock later was transferred to him.

Lamarre was president of Aviation Electric—but he emphasized in his testimony that Meyers was the "real owner."

He said that Meyers instructed that his name be crossed out on company records because "he did not want to have any evidence of his connection with the company."

LAMARRE EXPLAINED that he thought Meyers "may have" given this order about 1943, the year in which the then procurement officer reported to his Air Force superiors that he owned only 200 shares of any stock.

"I gained the impression from him that in his position in the Army he couldn't afford to be connected with any company," Lamarre testified.

Session May Mirror White House Chances

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—Presidential aspirations began riding for a lift or a fall today with the reconvening of congress.

For at least one announced GOP White House candidate—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio—the reopening of congress spelled a "make or break" situation.

But in the opinion of Washington politicians the legislative achievements and failures marked up between now and next Summer's political conventions will affect the presidential chances of candidates—inside as well as outside the capitol.

Governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Earl Warren of California, it is pointed out, cannot escape some of the political consequences accruing from what happens in congress.

The same goes for ex-governor

Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. Taft, Stassen and Warren are the GOP's only "announced candidates."

President Truman and Taft, however, are seen as exposed to the greatest risk in the special and regular session of congress.

Observers note that both hold policy-forming positions which leave little room for "second-guessing" the major issues of 1948. Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts are in somewhat the same category.

Unlike Senate Policy Chairman Taft, Republican Governors Dewey and Warren and even General Dwight D. Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur, the military dark horse possibilities, can take time to measure public opinion before speaking out on foreign and domestic issues.

OF THE 300 PERSONS interrogated, 73 were taken to police headquarters for further questioning. Of these, 27—including 10 foreigners—were held for further identity check-ups.

Virtually all of the 1,500 seized earlier were released.

Meanwhile, strike-bound travellers—of whom there are some 6,000 in the city—petitioned authorities to provide transportation for them either aboard a French warship or in military aircraft.

While the search was being pressed for trouble-makers, a special dragnet was maintained for the man alleged to be Marseille's "Al Capone."

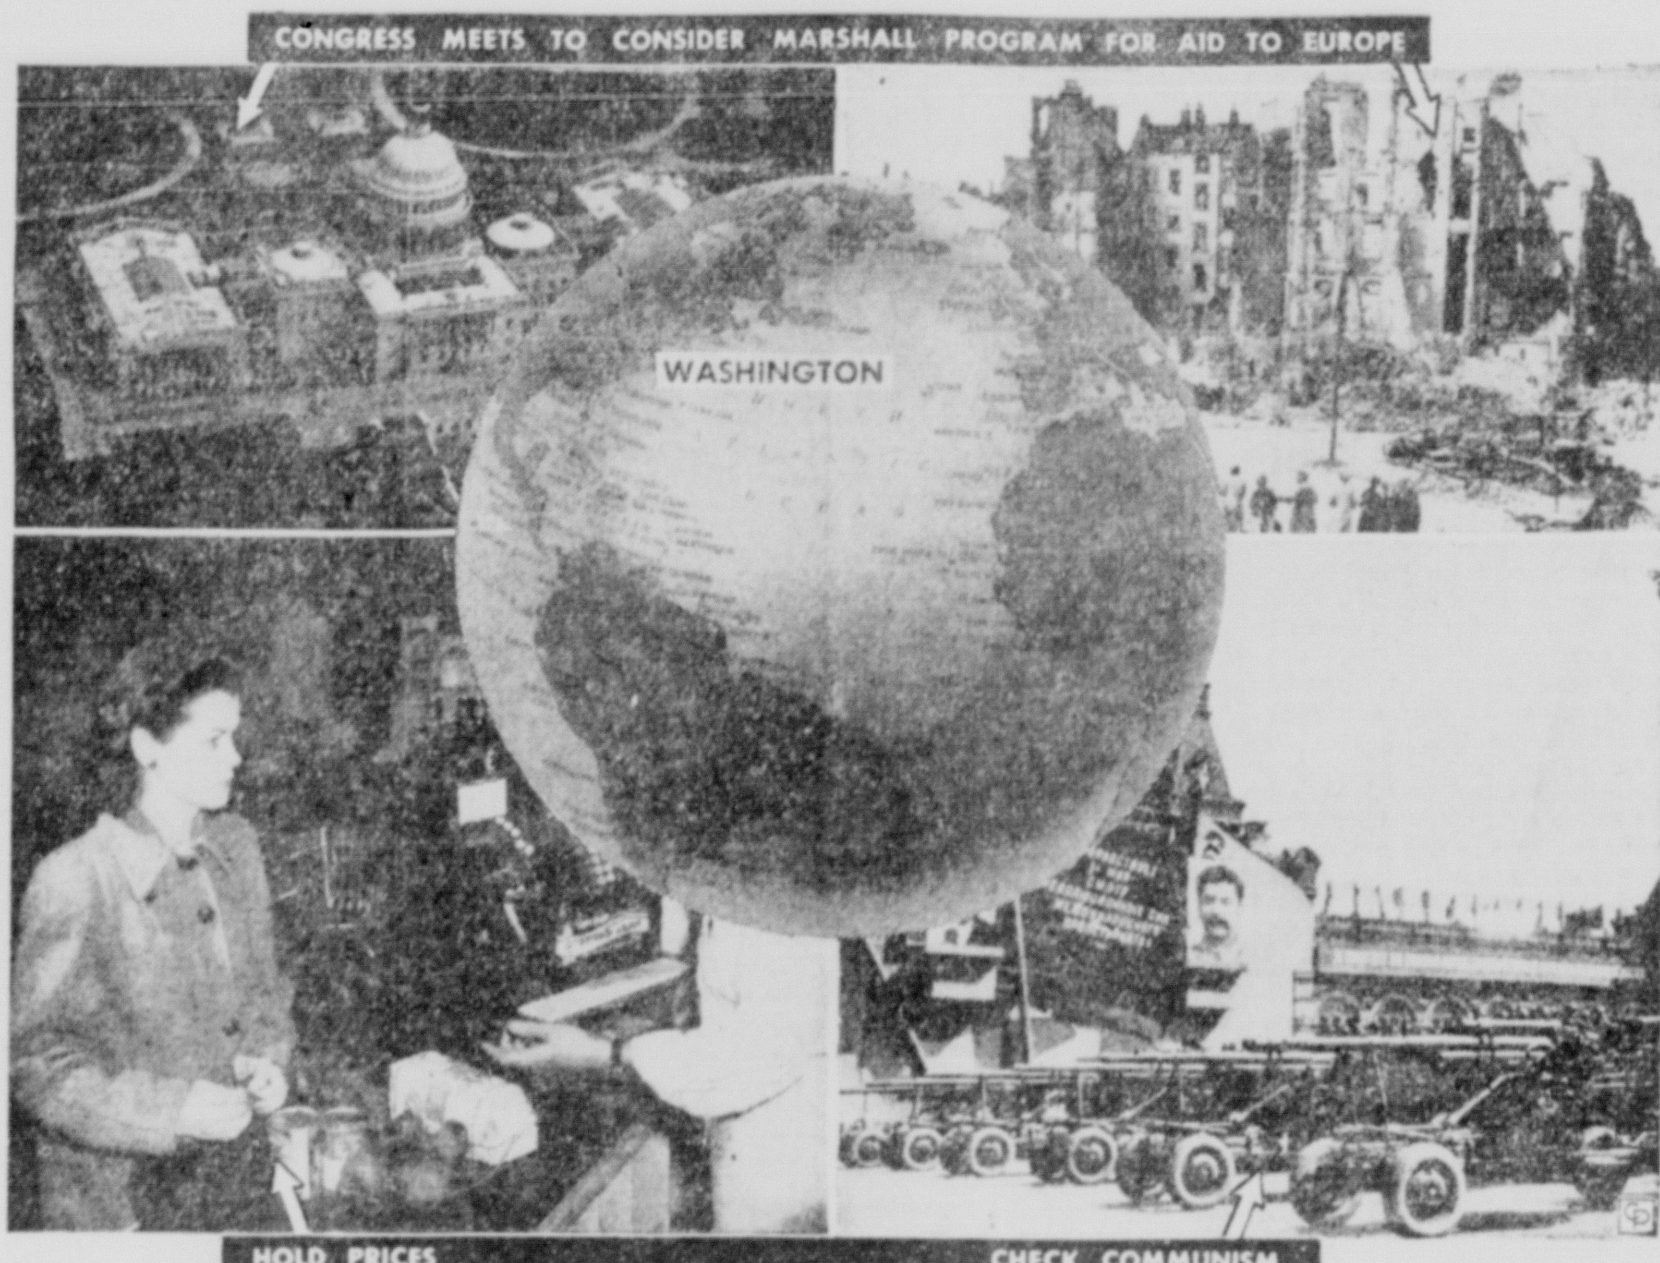

A quickly-growing strike in France's northern coalfields increased fears that Communist-led incidents similar to those which ravaged Marseille last week may spread to Paris and industrial regions of the north.

APPROXIMATELY 10,000 miners were estimated to be idle this morning following yesterday's strike.

5-LEGGED DOG STILL REMAINS UNWANTED HERE

Five-legged dog was in the Pickaway county dog pound for the sixth successive day, Monday, as Dog Warden Harry Riffe continues attempts to establish ownership of the freak canine.

It has three legs in front and two behind, is a female about four months old, with short black hair, unimpaired and seemingly healthy. When found, it wore neither collar nor license tag.

Many Visitors View Circus Lodged Here

Many residents of Circleville and vicinity visited the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Sunday to view the Mills Brothers circus at its Winter quarters.

Most of the show arrived in Circleville late last week from Port Arthur, Tex., and the remainder is expected to reach the Fairgrounds in a day or two.

Circus spokesmen explained that some of the animal acts are not owned by the circus and that these will not winter in Circleville. Instead, some of the acts will be staged through the Winter months by their owners at points in the South.

Among the animals quartered at the Fairgrounds is "Big Burma", trained elephant said to be the best elephant act in the world.

The show will remain in winter quarters until about April 15 and the owners have announced the public will be admitted free to view the menagerie and other show property.

Mills Brothers is one circus which never presents a performance on Sunday. Furthermore the circus has its own preacher. He is the widely known "Doc" Waddell, now 84 years old, whose life hobby has been circuses and circus folk.

"Doc" Waddell has officiated at marriages of many circus people, he has baptized dozens of circus children.

On Sunday, when he conducts religious services including Sunday school for the youngsters, he sometimes uses a circus ticket booth for a pulpit.

SILVER-HAIRED Mrs. Hager sent the royal princess a silk negligee, while 54-year-old Mrs. Wahages shipped the bride-to-be a pair of blue garters—just to be sure she had that “something blue” to be worn at her wedding Thursday.

Twenty-two-year-old Mrs. Benham brought with her as a gift from the American people a wrist-watch, studded with 30 diamonds.

Mrs. Lois Guerrieri of Washington, D. C., mother of four children, left New York's La Guardia field by plane for a flight to London where she is to attend Princess Elizabeth's tea party tomorrow.

Mrs. Guerrieri, in those few free moments that a mother of four children can seldom find, managed to make a green taffeta afternoon gown for the princess.

She intended to frame the invitation but a Washington newspaper gave her a chance to accept, by financing her trip to Britain.

MR. TRUMAN emphasized that his request for price ceiling authority does not extend to all products and commodities.

He emphasized that it should not be necessary to place price ceilings on staple food and clothing items that are not in short supply, or on delicacies and luxuries.

Mr. Truman told congress the same principle of selective treatment would apply to industrial items. He said that the “selective treatment of a relative few dangerous spots is very different from overall wartime price controls.”

The President linked his request for price ceilings, wage regulation and various other controls directly with the interim aid and long-range Marshall recovery plan.

He said that unless prices are controlled at home the large sums to be advanced to foreign countries in the recovery program may largely be wasted because those funds, if prices continue to rise in this country, could not purchase the needed goods.

The President asked 597 million dollars interim aid for Europe and said that he will shortly send congress a message embodying his recommendations for the long-range Marshall plan.

The chief executive specifically asked 42 million dollars for Austria, 227 millions for Italy and 328 millions for France to purchase food, fuel and other essential goods during the next four and a half months.

THUGS GET $500 FROM COLUMBUS GROCERY BOSS

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Two armed bandits waylaid and slugged a Columbus assistant grocery store manager today and escaped with $500 the victim had secured for change for the day's business.

Robert Billingsley, 32, said he drove up to the store's parking lot and that the two bandits followed in another auto. They ordered Billingsley to turn the money over to them and then struck the store employee with a blackjack.

Billingsley noted the license number of the auto but a police blockade of the area failed to capture the bandits.

CHILLICOTHE MEN HURT AS TANK TRUCK BLOWS

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Two men were injured today when a tank truck exploded at the Columbus Rendering Company plant.

The men hurt were Richard Emyart, 27, a mechanic, and Charles Good, 30, of near Chillicothe.

Good suffered fractures of both arms and the right leg, chest injuries and shock. Mt. Carmel hospital attaches said Good was in poor condition. Workmen said the explosion lifted the garage roof “at least a foot” into the air.

WOMAN FALLS BENEATH FAST TRAIN, ESCAPES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 17—Mrs. Christine Serpone, 54, of suburban Struthers, knows today how it feels to be run over by a train.

Mrs. Serpone fell between the rails near her home Saturday night and a fast Pennsylvania train passed over her.

Police said she suffered a cut forehead and a torn dress. Mrs. Serpone was reported resting comfortably today in her home.

The strikers in the Communist stronghold near the Belgian frontier objected also to rising living costs and the general policy of the government.

A meeting between Premier Paul Ramadier and Former Premier Paul Reynaud led to predictions that the latter might return to Paris officialdom, possibly as a “save the franc” finance minister.

The President linked his request for price ceilings, wage regulation and various other controls directly with the interim aid and long-range Marshall recovery plan.

DOCTOR SHAKES DEFENSE GIVEN BY TOLEDOAN

HAVANA, Nov. 17—The trial of Patricia Schmidt, the Ohio dancer accused of murdering her lover, John Lester Mee, Chicago attorney, continues today with 26 more witnesses on tap for questioning by prosecution and defense.

At the conclusion of Friday's testimony, after which a recess was declared, observers agreed that the prosecution had scored heavily.

Dr. Joaquin Piedra, physician at the Anglo-American hospital where Mee died, testified he heard the fatally wounded man say “Patricia shot me deliberately.”

This alleged death-bed statement by Mee contradicted previous testimony of the Toledo night-club entertainer—who danced under the name of “Satura”—that she shot Mee in self-defense.

LONDON HEADS BRITISH NOW LEAVING HOLY LAND

LONDON, Nov. 17—The London Times reported today that the British army has begun its withdrawal from Palestine.

Both personnel and military stores are being evacuated via two routes: by sea from Haifa and by land across the Egyptian border to Port Said.

The Times said the operation may last up to a year, and that it will be five months before the withdrawal reaches its full momentum.

The British army has estimated that the present time-table will result in more than half of the army's stores being left behind.

POLICE HAVE SLIM HOPE OF BREAKING GEM CASE

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—Slim hopes were held today by suburban Shaker Heights police of an early break in the $15,000 fur and jewelry robbery of the Louis S. Bing, Jr., home.

The stolen automobile in which the robber gang made its escape from the Bing home Saturday was found abandoned yesterday in the suburb. Police said the heavy rains that night probably washed off any fingerprints on the outside of the car. The small safe containing the jewelry has not yet been found.

12 TOP ITEMS NOW FACING UN

Admittance Of 5 Nations, Franco, Holy Land Issues Eyed

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Nov. 17—The United Nations general assembly enters the final stage of its 1947 program today with 12 major issues still unsettled.

Chief among the controversial items on the agenda are the resolution asking the security council to reconsider the applications of five new nations, and the question of Franco Spain.

Another tough nut to crack—the Palestine problem—is still in the subcommittee where plans for partition and enforcement are being drawn up.

In spite of last week's long sessions, which ran until late Saturday, the major political committee and the Palestine group failed by far to meet the Nov. 15 deadline set for their work.

IN ACCORDANCE with an appeal by UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie and President Oswaldo Aranha of the assembly, the plenary session and the two committee groups at Lake Success this week can be expected to take as many “short-cuts” as feasible.

Numerous delegates are in agreement on shifting unagreed problems and unfinished business into the year-round “little assembly” approved by an overwhelming majority last week.

It is pointed out that the Soviet bloc's announced intention to boycott this group will probably not hold water in the long run and that an early test would be of advantage.

In an early afternoon forum Wednesday, provisions of the Taft-Hartley act will be analyzed and explained by experts in the field of labor relations.

POLICE BLAMED AS MAN DIES OF KNIFE WOUNDS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—A Cleveland wife, held at Central police station, accused police today of negligence in the fatal stabbing of her husband.

Mrs. Betty Gonzales, 32, admitted she stabbed her husband, Alex, 37, in the back with a bread knife yesterday during an argument.

She said she then called police to report the stabbing and was told to “put some iodine” on the wound. About an hour and a half later the husband collapsed and the wife called police again.

Gonzales was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Vincent Charity hospital.

Police declared they had no record of any such calls. Detective Lt. William E. Halloran said an investigation of the woman's charges would be made.

MEYERS NAMED FIRM ‘OWNER’

Douglas Aircraft accountant told how Meyers first got him a job on the west coast, then brought him east to “protect his financial interest” in the Dayton firm.

The company, on Meyers' recommendation, received $1,058,575 worth of business from Bell Aircraft Corp., its president, Larry Bell, has testified.

From records of the Dayton concern, Lamarre established that Meyers put up $500 for all the stock of Aviation Electric, and later advanced a total of approximately $6,000 for its early operation, receiving six per cent demand notes in return.

Lamarre said there was no evidence of anyone else putting money into the company.

BLASTS, FLAMES DESTROY HUGE JAP AMMO PILE

ron of the U. S. First Cavalry division was rushed from Tokyo to Zushi to help fight the roaring fire in which munitions continued exploding.

The flames spread to wooded and brush-covered hills behind the giant ordnance depot which the Japanese had built before the war. Shells screaming out from exploding munitions piles hampered the fire fighting.

The Army said 300 American officers and men ordinarily are stationed at the huge depot which is two miles long and contains small underground magazine chambers as well as munitions storehouses above the surface.

The Zushi arsenal is the U. S. Army's largest munitions storage plant in Japan. It houses all types of ordnance and ammunition ranging from carbine cartridges to large mortar shells.

For Rocks; Ex-Gl Seeks To Shed Wife

Mrs. Bessie Stevens, Circleville, married for 27 years and the mother of eight children, filed suit for divorce in Pickaway county common pleas court, Monday, charging Fred Stevens with extreme cruelty. Her petition, containing no details of the accusation, states they were married March 17, 1920, in Circleville.

In another divorce suit, filed Monday, Milton Henry accuses Delores H. Henry, Columbus, of gross neglect of duty.

Declaring they were married June 15, 1942, in Columbus and that they are childless, Mr. Henry alleges that while he served overseas with the Army his wife associated with other men.

He claims she is addicted to intoxicants, that she spent his government allotment cash for "liquor and riotous living," and that on one occasion he gave her money for a trip to her parents home in Georgia and three days afterward saw her in a "beer parlor" in Circleville.

POLICE HOLDING PAIR; ONE SAYS HE'S FBI AGENT

Two men claiming Charleston, W. Va., as their home were in the Circleville city jail Monday for investigation. They were taken into custody at 10:45 p. m. Sunday in the White Swan tavern on West Main street by Patrolmen Turney Ross and John W. McGinnis.

One of the suspects allegedly claimed to be a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent. Police said he was registered at the New American hotel under a fictitious name. His companion also was registered at the hotel.

Issues Eyed

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Nov. 17—The United Nations general assembly enters the final stage of its 1947 program today with 12 major issues still unsettled.

Chief among the controversial items on the agenda are the resolution asking the security council to reconsider the applications of five new nations, and the question of Franco Spain.

Another tough nut to crack—the Palestine problem—is still in the subcommittee where plans for partition and enforcement are being drawn up.

In spite of last week's long sessions, which ran until late Saturday, the major political committee and the Palestine group failed by far to meet the Nov. 15 deadline set for their work.

IN ACCORDANCE with an appeal by UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie and President Oswaldo Aranha of the assembly, the plenary session and the two committee groups at Lake Success this week can be expected to take as many "short-cuts" as feasible.

Numerous delegates are in agreement on shifting un-agreed problems and unfinished business into the year-round "little assembly" approved by an overwhelming majority last week.

It is pointed out that the Soviet bloc's announced intention to boycott this group will probably not hold water in the long run and that an early test would be of advantage.

C OF C PLANS PARLEY ON NEW LABOR RULING

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Delegates to the 54th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, will hear Congressman Fred E. Hartley, Jr., co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, executive vice-president Herschel C. Atkinson announced today.

In an early afternoon forum Wednesday, provisions of the Taft-Hartley act will be analyzed and explained by experts in the field of labor relations.

POLICE BLAMED AS MAN DIES OF KNIFE WOUNDS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 17—A Cleveland wife, held at Central police station, accused police today of negligence in the fatal stabbing of her husband.

Mrs. Betty Gonzales, 32, admitted she stabbed her husband, Alex, 37, in the back with a bread knife yesterday during an argument.

She said she then called police to report the stabbing and was told to "put some iodine" on the wound. About an hour and a half later the husband collapsed and the wife called police again.

Gonzales was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Vincent Charity hospital.

Police declared they had no record of any such calls. Detective Lt. William E. Halloran said an investigation of the woman's charges would be made.

MEYERS NAMED FIRM 'OWNER'

Douglas Aircraft accountant told how Meyers first got him a job on the west coast, then brought him east to "protect his financial interest" in the Dayton firm.

The company, on Meyers' recommendation, received $1,058,375 worth of business from Bell Aircraft Corp., its president, Larry Bell, has testified.

From records of the Dayton concern, Lamarre established that Meyers put up $500 for all the stock of Aviation Electric, and later advanced a total of approximately $6,000 for its early operation, receiving six per cent demand notes in return.

Lamarre said there was no evidence of anyone else putting money into the company.

BLASTS, FLAMES DESTROY HUGE JAP AMMO PILE

ron of the U. S. First Cavalry division was rushed from Tokyo to Zushi to help fight the roaring fire in which munitions continued exploding.

The flames spread to wooded and brush-covered hills behind the giant ordnance depot which the Japanese had built before the war. Shells screaming out from exploding munitions piles hampered the fire fighting.

The Army said 300 American officers and men ordinarily are stationed at the huge depot, which is two miles long and contains small underground magazine chambers as well as munitions storehouses above the surface.

The Zushi arsenal is the U. S. Army's largest munitions storage plant in Japan. It houses all types of ordnance and ammunition ranging from carbine cartridges to large mortar shells.

'I Was An American Slave Girl In Russia'

95 PERCENT OF RUSS OPPOSE SOVIET RULE

Tight Armed Control Over Big Majority Prevents Shift Of Authority

CHAPTER THREE

By IRMA MOHAUPT
CINCINNATI, O. Nov. 17—Ninety-five per cent of the Russian civilians and soldiers I met during my three years as a slave laborer in the Ukraine were against the Communist regime in power.

They were helpless, they told me, because the minority in power maintained order by tight armed control and by putting non-sympathizers in concentration camps.

The Russian soldiers on guard at our camp at Krivoi Rog, near the Dnieper dam didn't care if anyone escaped, so they let us slip out after regular working hours.

Many of the guards were friendly to me because they knew I was an American and could speak their language.

I sneaked out of the camp almost every night. I did sewing or other chores for the people in the surrounding towns, to make money so I could buy food.

In this manner I saw and heard about conditions as they really were.

Many of the guards at our own camp told me they had nothing to eat most of the time. They claimed they were better off when the Germans were in the country.

The farmer who was allowed to keep one fat cow was a rich man indeed.

If the Communists saw any nice cows they wanted, they sent troops to confiscate them.

IF THE farmer complained, I was told, he was usually shot down, and the rest of his livestock stolen.

All the population was poorly dressed and didn't have too much to eat.

Practically everybody in the surrounding villages wore American army green clothing and high field shoes. I never saw anybody wear anything else. The clothing came in big cases marked "USA."

The Russian food fare seemed to consist mainly of a combination of wheat and barley put in water. When boiled, it became a thin, watery soup.

The Russian civilians told me they prayed for the day America would come to their aid and they would have better times.

They were grateful to America for sending them the clothes which they wore. Everybody thought kindly of the Americans.

IN THE last year I was in Russia, I saw the civilians set up little churches for worship. These were set up in back rooms where the townspeople gathered to pray. The meetings changed each week to prevent secret police from arresting them.

The thing that surprised me at first was that the women in the towns worked at harder jobs than the men. They did cement work, built roads and buildings and ran the train locomotives and drove heavy trucks.

Only the top Russian city officials had good clothing and plenty of food.

Radio Moscow was always broadcasting to the people that the American people have no food and were starving.

The civilians always laughed when they heard those broadcasts and asked: "How can the government be so dumb?"

THE BROADCASTS told how everything in Russia was perfect and promised to end rationing by 1947. One of the broadcasts I heard said that in America and England there was no bread or clothing for the people.

Every week a representative of the Communist party came to town and gave a pep talk to the villagers. He always ended his speech with promises that "things will be better next year."

The people laughed at all the programs. They don't believe the propaganda that the government gives out. Another promise the government has been broadcasting is that by the first of the following month they would get white bread and sugar—but the first never comes.

There were frequent raids by the Soviet Secret police on the anti-Communists.

From sow to ground feed is the logical step for young pigs if they're going to thrive from the start. Pigs love corn. D. P.'S AND ELECTION DISPLACED Persons are to become a political issue in North Dakota. Fred G. Aandahl, governor of that state, appointed a 13-man committee to investigate the possibility of settling in North Dakota several thousand of these people made homeless by war, mostly German-Russians in European concentration camps, relatives of North Dakota farmers already long established there. The state is said to have lost 140,000 workers in the last few years and the large farms are greatly in need of labor.

The committee reported favorably on the idea except for one member, a Bismarck citizen active in veterans' affairs, who said that veteran loans and veteran housing should have priority over the D.P.'s. Opposition to admitting them came also from outside the committee, from the powerful Farmers' Union, through a spokesman who feared that if "the bottom dropped out of things" people now signing affidavits to support D.P. relatives might themselves have to have aid. Gov. Aandahl dropped the matter despite the 12 to 1 favorable report of his committee and its support by a large body of North Dakota citizens.

The national Citizens Committee on Displaced Persons, headed by Earl Harrison, dean of the law school of the University of Pennsylvania, had hoped North Dakota would be the first state officially to absorb some of the D.P.'s. But politics interferes. Election Day is not far off. Meanwhile, our neighbor, Canada, also with large farms and little labor, is bringing such people in by the thousand. It knows that the more people there are to work the farms, mills and factories, the better will be the farms and industries, the more they will produce, the more they will sell, the better off all will be.

IF IT'S CRIME YOU WANT

THERE should be limits to the fund-raising methods of city governments. In one of this Fall's mayoralty campaigns the leader of the outs, to provide more money for playgrounds, proposed that children be charged "a modest fee".

This gave his opponent a grand opening. "Charge a dime or a nickel or even a penny, and tell the child he can't come on the playground without it? In other words, the streets for you!"

No better way could be found to encourage juvenile delinquency.

"Irresponsible opportunists make it a practice to attack every person or group with whom they disagree as 'Communists' ". This is no Communist or fellow-traveler utterance. It is the declaration of President Truman's Committee on Civil Rights, whose chairman is the head of one of America's largest corporations, Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric.

Senator Robert A. Taft, Chairman of the Republican Policy Committee and Presidential candidate, has joined the debate on the Marshall Plan. But he does not hop on the bandwagon. He asks questions and formulates a policy which may be stated simply: We give what we can afford to give. If we give more than we can afford to give, we must ultimately damage ourselves as well as the beneficiary.

And he raises the question of taxes. What right has Speaker Joe Martin or anybody else to decline to consider the problem of taxes when that is actually the most important issue before the American people today? For we, as a people, are being squeezed between high taxes and high prices until our standard of living is constantly being lowered. This is due to government policy which stimulates prices, produces shortages, exports abroad material essential for home consumption and then shouts, "Stop Inflation!" Taft challenges the Administration's dictum that the individual American is not to be trusted with his own money.

Taft said before the Ohio Society: "If we want the Marshall Plan, we cannot have lower prices. If we want lower prices, we have to give up the Marshall Plan. The Marshall Plan may be worth the cost, but let's be realistic and face the fact that there is a cost."

Taft's view means that there will be a fight in the Senate over costs as there will be a fight in both the House and the Senate over the method of aid. There will be no smooth sailing. Senator Taft not only feels that the Marshall figure is too high but that the Harriman figure, which is lower, is too high. And that raises another question, namely, why cannot the Administration present a single plan with a table of costs? So far there have been four separate Administration Reports: The Kurg, the Nourse, the Harriman and the Marshall reports in that order, and on Monday, President Truman speaks. When these various documents are read in relation to the Bevin Report, which is the overall European (16 to 1) statement, the confusion grows so confounded and complex that nobody can make head or tail as to precisely how much is involved and by what method it is to be spent, and who is to do the spending.

That, in effect, is the issue that Senator Taft raises. He does not reject aid, but he feels that the American people are entitled to know all the facts and to understand and approve all the methods. Furthermore he wants to be sure that this crescendo of propaganda is designed to aid Europe and Asia and not to impose additional but silly controls on the American people. The Nourse Report was unbelievably stupid, for it would control one commodity but not its related commodity, which means that while, let us say, wheat disappears from the market because it is controlled, the price of corn skyrockets because it is not controlled. The Nourse plan not only guarantees a Black Market (sometimes called a Grey Market) for scarce materials but it defeats itself by stimulating inflation. Harriman goes along with Nourse a little way but not very far. His remarks on the subject were carefully ambiguous.

Incidentally, I want to refer to a telegram which Henry L. Stimson sent confidentially to what seems to be hundreds of persons. Four copies of this confidential document lie on my desk sent me for publication.

NEW YORK—The official costume for the young ladies of the town these days seems to be a corduroy topcoat with a cowl and a jersey blouse and long flannel skirt that billows like a ballerina's when the young ladies turn, as they do so artlessly.

If I saw one of those uniforms this morning on my way downtown, I saw 10. Hooded corduroy topcoat, blouse, long skirt. It gave me pause to think I thought this was the town where women were all striking, all differently dressed, all rugged individualists.

Last year they all seemed to be wearing red coats and a couple of years before that the ranch brand was the wedge shoe.

I can see why men dress in the conservative sameness they do: if they indulged their fancies and donned black shirts and red ties or tattersall vests, undoubtedly their bosses would consider them frivolous and poor risks and soon fire them. It's a matter of career discretion with them.

However, women have all the excuse in the world in New York to dress differently—and while some of them do, most of them don't.

This is conducive to philosophy, but since a young lady in corduroy topcoat and long flannel skirt virtually sat in my lap on a crowded bus for 40 blocks this morning, I am not in a philosophical mood. Let's just say it's puzzling and let it go at that.

DIET AND HEALTH

Precautions to Take After A Kidney Stone Operation

By HERMAN N. RUNDESEN, M.D.
A PATIENT who has once undergone an operation for the removal of kidney stones wants, above all things else, some method to prevent other stones from forming. While we do not know the exact cause of the formation of the stones in the first place, there are certain precautions which can be taken to guard against their recurrence. These things include regulation of the diet according to the make-up of the stone removed, the elimination of all infection, and X-ray examination every three months. Each day the acidity of the urine is determined and, from time to time, the amount of calcium or lime eliminated in the urine is tested.

Vitamin A Deficiency
Many physicians believe that, in the majority of those with kidney stones, there is a deficiency of vitamin A. Hence, those patients who have had kidney stones are given vitamin A in large amounts. Infections may be present in the teeth, tonsils, or in the prostate gland and, if any are found, they should be eliminated. Many germs which are present in infections of the urinary tract have the ability to break up the urea which is present in the urine into ammonia and carbon dioxide. This process favors the formation of phosphates which do not dissolve in the body, and these phosphates may form into kidney stones. Hence, if the patient has a urinary tract infection, the type of germs causing it should be determined, and then the proper measures taken to eliminate these organisms.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
R. A.: What would cause a burning in the stomach and through the digestive tract?
Answer: This may be due to so-called heartburn which comes from many causes, such as gall-bladder disease, ulcer of the stomach or chronic constipation, and colitis. Eating too rapidly and eating the wrong foods will also produce this condition.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE
TERESA was sitting at the dressing table brushing her golden hair. She wore a green house gown with gold thread shot through it. Her eyes, startled somewhat, followed Allison from the door to the center of the room.

"Teresa, is Suzy Sam's child?"
Teresa's hand came down slowly from her hair. She laid the brush down and turned it over. Her hand went to her hair again to pull it in place. Then she began to move the things on the dressing table—the bottles of perfume, the nail file, the mirror, the deep, crystal ash tray. All the while her shoulders were rigid; her face, shining from the cream, told nothing. Then her shoulders squared and she brought her hands together, rubbing them. Then she sat perfectly still, her hands folded.

"You don't dare tell Sam that," she said.
"But is she? Is she his child?"
"Nicola. I always knew when she came back sorrow would come to roost."

"She's told only me. No one else."

Teresa looked at her through the mirror. "And you're not going to tell anyone, Allison. Do you hear? You're not going to tell anyone. It wouldn't do any good to tell. You'd only put doubts in Sam's mind. Would you do that to him?"

In the first place he would not believe you and in the second he would despise you for being a foolish, jealous girl. You'd only succeed in making a ridiculous spectacle of yourself. Anyone can make a statement like that, you know. How do I know you're Walter Van Dyke's daughter?"

"It's wrong, Teresa. It's so wrong it's infamous if you cheat Sam again. And you would not look so frightened and your mind would not be so busy working on self-defense—if it were not true. Do you know what mother would have done if anyone had suggested I was not my father's child? She'd have laughed and thought it the best joke she ever heard. You're not laughing, Teresa. Why don't you laugh at me? If I were you I'd have to get it out so I could start all over again. Because it will come out. There are three of us who know. Even if I don't tell, it will come out. Years from now it'll be too late to start all over again. Suppose you and Sam are middle-aged when it's known. You can't start all over again then. And Suzy! What will she think of you? You can't leave her out of it. You've got to tell Sam the truth while Suzy is too young to understand. You've got to tell Suzy who her father is."

Teresa put the palms of her hands against her forehead. "You'd better go to your room."

"I'll go to my room. But remember, you can't go back. Years from now you can't come back to now. You'll never be happy. And years from now what Suzy thinks will probably matter more than anything else on earth to you. You'll want her to love you and admire you and approve of you. Teresa, I wouldn't want my daughter to ask me who her father is."

Teresa spread her hands across the dressing table and buried her head in them. "I told you to go to your room, Allison. It's late and I'm tired."

"You'll never be happy. You'll never have any peace. You've earned both. You've worked so hard. Don't you want what you've earned? You can't cheat Sam again and you can't go on lying to your daughter the rest of your life. 'Daddy... Your father'... It will stick in your throat. You can't do it to them. You can't do it to yourself."

"You're in love with Sam, aren't you?"
"Yes, Teresa. I love him and I'm in love with him. But you and Suzy are my family. You're the only family I've got. I love you, too."

Teresa was motionless when she left her.

In the morning she told Annette she would not be home for dinner. She did not wait for Annette's pleasantly lifted features to fall because she would have to endure the cold with Suzy in the afternoon.

All through that unending day she wondered how she could return to the house tonight and see Sam and Teresa and Teresa still pretending. Flight suggested itself. Living with Teresa had become unbearable. But you had to buy a train ticket to somewhere and somewhere at the moment was exactly nowhere.

The sun made one of its rare appearances that day. As she came out of the business school it seemed to strike her eyes. People were moving along the street, but she had no place to go. Recalling Tim's "too much time," she began to walk slowly. But no one expected anyone to walk slowly. They looked at you as though you were mad.

Perhaps I am, she thought. Perhaps I dreamed it. But no, this is no dream. Last night was no dream. Nor is today. Sam's car is parked before the house. It's there now, Sam and Suzy will have their play after her walk and Teresa will come home. She'll change into something seductive and she and Sam will have their cocktails and look at the child. Perhaps Sam will think, "This is my former wife and this is my child and this is where I belong. I want to see my daughter grow up and Teresa is her mother. And Teresa has changed. No less provocative, but softer. Kinder and older. She's beautiful and exciting and intelligent and lonely. I'm alone and lonely, too."

Were these his thoughts tonight? But what of love, Sam? Love, so maligned, so exalted, so little understood.

His eyes were so filled with life and his thoughts and feelings. But

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

IT MAY WASTE A TRICK
LEADING AWAY from an ace against a suit contract will cost you side a trick, almost certainly, whenever the declarer happens to have the king on his side and a singleton in his own hand or the dummy. In such cases, which are frequent, your ace is doomed to be ruffed later. The lead away from a king, however, will practically never prove costly if your partner has either the queen or the ace. Why is it, then, that so many players balk at leading from a king, yet like to lead from an ace? You answer. We can't.

With the actual bidding, however, good defense would have set the contract. With spades and clubs out of consideration, the heart A would have been the best lead, or possibly the diamond 2—as that could cost nothing if East had either the A or Q. In either event, the defense would have been effective, as the heart A lead would have brought a low card from East, calling for a switch to the diamond suit, in which the 2 was the correct card. One trick in hearts plus three in diamonds would have downed South.

But West chose to underlead his heart A, opening the 3. That was virtually sure to do the defense harm unless East held the K, which he did not. South won with the K, and then proceeded with the same kind of play as if a club had been led, except that one club was ruffed to set up the suit, making possible only two diamond discards. Guessing the club finesse would have produced an unbid grand slam, instead of the unbid small one.

That is pretty bad bidding, of a style done by many otherwise splendid players who are overly interested in telling their partners every possible fact about their hands. North should have raised spades, and the side should have reached game without telling the opponents how to defend against the contract. If that had been done, a club would have been the lead, enabling South to take out trumps and then discard three diamonds on clubs to make an unbid small slam.

What would you consider the best all-around bidding of everybody on this deal?

Members of the Solagua Garden Club met Saturday in regular session in the home of Mrs. V. M. Klingensmith, route 1, Ashville, with Miss Grace Alspaugh assisting hostess. Mrs. James Hott, president, opened the meeting by reading a poem entitled "Faith" by Florence Kerigan which was published in the "Classmate". It's No Joke, Folks—
WE STILL MUST SAVE USED FATS

says Bert Lahr
famous comedian, now starring in hit comedy Burlesque

Now how can some people be so foolish as to forget used fats are still needed? Look at the situation. Our government says the world shortage of fats and oils isn't very much better than last year. Clinton P. Anderson, our Secretary of Agriculture, says: "It is still necessary to conserve every pound of used fat." Now those boys aren't fooling! So let's all continue our good old wartime habit—save that grease and turn it in! Lady, let's do it!

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

SAVE USED FATS

says Bert Lahr

famous comedian, now starring in hit comedy Burlesque

Now how can some people be so foolish as to forget used fats are still needed? Look at the situation. Our government says the world shortage of fats and oils isn't very much better than last year. Clinton P. Anderson, our Secretary of Agriculture, says: "It is still necessary to conserve every pound of used fat." Now those boys aren't fooling! So let's all continue our good old wartime habit—save that grease and turn it in! Lady, let's do it!

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

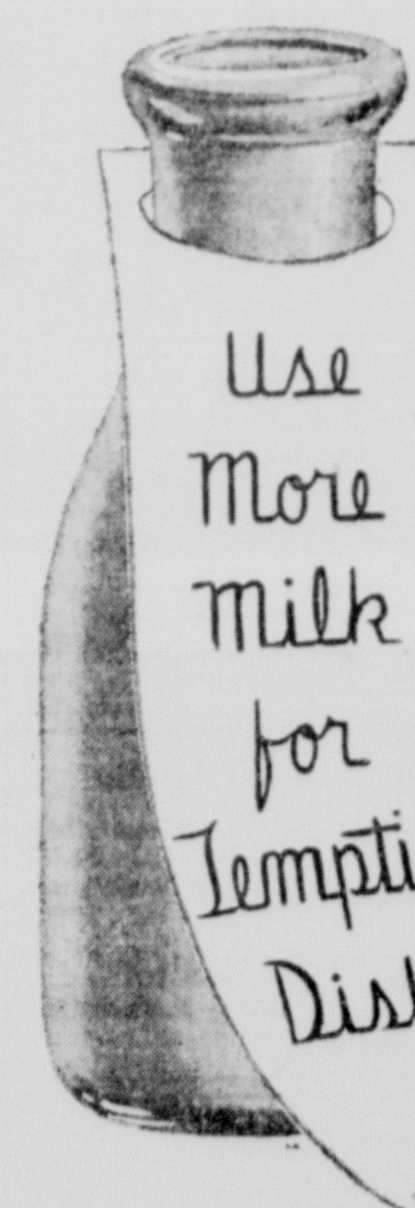

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time yip and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regain glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

SHARE OF TOGA

By International News Service
The ambitious young gridgers of Canton McKinley high school were working up a well-documented claim today to a share of 1947 state schoolboy honors.

McKinley, its record marred by a one-point defeat by Canton Lincoln, probably will have to be satisfied with runner-up honors behind unbeaten and untied Barberton.

While the Magics sit around, however, after early completion of their season, the Bulldogs remain on the rampage. They wallowed Lakewood, 20 to 6, Saturday for their eighth victory in nine games.

ONLY 4 TEAMS STILL RETAIN PURE RECORD

Penn State, Georgia Tech Are Eliminated From Select List

NEW YORK, Nov. 17—The nation's list of undefeated and untied major college football teams was reduced to just four today with the elimination of Penn and Georgia Tech.

Army, perhaps aided by a wet field, held Penn to a 7-7 tie, and Alabama ruined Georgia Tech, 14-17.

Penn state, previously accused of picking on softies, emerged as the undisputed eastern leader by trouncing Navy 20-7. Only weak Pittsburgh blocks State's path to a perfect season and an attractive bowl bid.

Michigan's mud larks raised themselves to at least a par with Notre Dame by galloping to a 40-6 landslide over a strong Wisconsin eleven, while Notre Dame's stock slumped as the Irish had trouble registering a 26-19 win over hitherto inept Northwestern.

SOUTHERN Methodist, which had a tough time downing Arkansas 14-6, was left as the nation's fourth undefeated and untied major eleven.

Penn remains paired with Southern California as unbeaten, but tied once.

U.C.L.A. showed great power in running over Washington, 34-7.

There were eight other upsets. Iowa needed powerful but crippled Minnesota, 13-7; Princeton annexed the Big Three crown by upsetting Yale 17-0.

Indiana dropped Marquette 48-6. Other scores: Illinois 28, Ohio State 7; Purdue 28, Pittsburgh 0.

Another Cleveland-New York Yankees playoff in the All-America conference was virtually assured today, but the race for top berths in the rival National Football league still was undecided.

Cleveland's champion Browns clinched the Western AAC title by smothering San Francisco, 37-14, before 76,504 at Cleveland. Otto Graham hurled three touchdown passes for the Browns.

The New York Yankees virtually clinched the Eastern title by nosing out the Los Angeles Dons 16-13 at New York before 37,625.

All four leaders in the NFL won Sunday. Chicago's Cardinals, Western leaders, squeezed through to a narrow 21-20 victory over the hard-luck Green Bay Packers.

The Bears, scored three touchdowns to vanquish the Rams, 41-21 in a rough game at Los Angeles, with Sid Luckman of the Bears tossing three touchdown passes.

STUDENTS RAP PLAN TO TAPER FOOTBALL CARD

AKRON, O., Nov. 17—Akron university students, determined to change the school's athletic policy, have called a meeting for Wednesday to map plans.

Leo McIlroy, in charge of the student council's promotion committee, announced that a preliminary meeting was to be held today to map out a program.

The school's plan to lighten the football schedule was said to be the main factor under protest.

McIlroy said that the students would rather encourage scholarships and build the athletic program than "to backtrack in football and book a weaker schedule."

"Our main object will be to promote the idea of Akron university to the Akron scholastic athletes and get the high school players to come to the university," McIlroy added.

AS ILLINI TOPS OHIO STATE '11'

Bucks Fall, 28-7, For Fifth Loss; Denison, Miami Pacing Colleges

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17—Ohio lost its homecoming game to Illinois last Saturday, just as was expected. The score was 28 to 7 and represented Ohio's fifth defeat against two victories and a tie.

Wes Fesler's Bucks put up a stiff fight against the Illini. In the third period they threatened to make a close game of it as they carried the battle to the Illini and finally succeeded in shaking Ollie Cline loose on a 25-yard touchdown excursion down the sideline.

At that time, Illinois led only 14 to 7, but the Bucks couldn't keep up the pace. Illini quarterback Perry Moss whipped a 40-yard pass to halfback Chick Maggioli for a third touchdown and Paul Patterson, sub halfback, broke away for a 32-yard scoring jaunt later.

Automatic Don Maetschle kicked all four extra points for Illinois. Emil Moldea, who defeated Northwestern a week earlier with his "extra period" kick, added Ohio's conversion.

In 1943, it took a post-season game between Denison and Miami to decide the mythical Ohio college football championship.

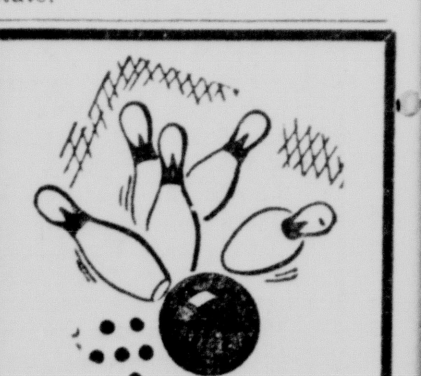

This year, the same two teams are coming down to the wire as the only unbeaten elevens in the state. Denison also is untied, while Miami was deadlocked by Dayton.

The Big Red hurdled its last important obstacle when it defeated Ohio Wesleyan, 18 to 6, Saturday. Denison meets Wittenberg this weekend, but only the year's biggest upset can prevent the Big Red from snatching the first perfect season in its history.

Miami spanked the University of Wichita, 22 to 7, and now rests until Thanksgiving when it tackles an old rival, Cincinnati.

Cincinnati took the lead in the Mid-American conference by edging Western Reserve, 7 to 6. The Laurels for defense were clinched by Heidelberg when it finished a 7-and-1 season with only 35 points scored against it. The Student Princes wound up with a 9-to-0 victory over Wooster.

Heidelberg, Findlay and Wilberforce state share the once-beaten classification with Toledo. The Rockets have won eight, the latest being a 33-to-12 decision over South Dakota State.

SHARE OF TOGA

By International News Service.

The ambitious young gridgers of Canton McKinley high school were working up a well-documented claim today to a share of 1947 state schoolboy honors.

McKinley, its record marred by a one-point defeat by Canton Lincoln, probably will have to be satisfied with runner-up honors behind unbeaten and untied Barberton.

While the Magics sit around, however, after early completion of their season, the Bulldogs remain on the rampage. They walloped Lakewood, 20 to 6, Saturday for their eighth victory in nine games.

ONLY 4 TEAMS STILL RETAIN PURE RECORD

Penn State, Georgia Tech Are Eliminated From Select List

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The nation's list of undefeated and untied major college football teams was reduced to just four today with the elimination of Penn and Georgia Tech.

Army, perhaps aided by a wet field, held Penn to a 7-7 tie, and Alabama ruined Georgia Tech, 14-17.

Penn state, previously accused of picking on softies, emerged as the undisputed eastern leader by trouncing Navy 20-7. Only weak Pittsburgh broke State's path to a perfect season and an attractive bowl bid.

Michigan's mud larks raised themselves to at least a par with Notre Dame by galloping to a 40-6 landslide over a strong Wisconsin eleven, while Notre Dame's stock slumped as the Irish had trouble registering a 26-19 win over hitherto inept Northwestern.

SOUTHERN Methodist, which had a tough time downing Arkansas 14-6, was left as the nation's fourth undefeated and untied major eleven.

Penn remains paired with Southern California as unbeaten, but tied once.

U.C.L.A. showed great power in running over Washington, 34-7.

There were eight other upsets. Iowa needed powerful but crippled Minnesota, 13-7; Princeton annexed the Big Three crown by upsetting Yale 17-0.

Indiana dropped Marquette 48-6. Other scores: Illinois 28, Ohio State 7; Purdue 28, Pittsburgh 0.

Another Cleveland-New York Yankees playoff in the All-America conference was virtually assured today, but the race for top berths in the rival National Football league still was undecided.

Cleveland's champion Browns clinched the Western AAC title by smothering San Francisco, 37-14, before 76,504 at Cleveland. Otto Graham hurled three touchdown passes for the Browns.

The New York Yankees virtually clinched the Eastern title by noosing out the Los Angeles Dons 16-13 at New York before 37,625.

All four leaders in the NFL won Sunday. Chicago's Cardinals, Western leaders, squeezed through to a narrow 21-20 victory over the hard-luck Green Bay Packers.

The Bears, scored three touchdowns to vanquish the Rams, 41-21 in a rough game at Los Angeles, with Sid Luckman of the Bears tossing three touchdown passes.

STUDENTS RAP PLAN TO TAPER FOOTBALL CARD

AKRON, O., Nov. 17.—Akron university students, determined to change the school's athletic policy, have called a meeting for Wednesday to map plans.

Leo McLroy, in charge of the student council's promotion committee, announced that a preliminary meeting was to be held today to map out a program.

The school's plan to lighten the football schedule was said to be the main factor under protest.

McLroy said that the students would rather encourage scholarships and build the athletic program than "to backtrack in football and book a weaker schedule."

"Our main object will be to promote the idea of Akron university to the Akron scholastic athletes and get the high school players to come to the university," McLroy added.

AS ILLINI TOPS OHIO STATE '11'

Bucks Fall, 28-7, For Fifth Loss; Denison, Miami Pacing Colleges

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 17.—Ohio lost its homecoming game to Illinois last Saturday, just as was expected. The score was 28 to 7 and represented Ohio's fifth defeat against two victories and a tie.

Wes Fesler's Bucks put up a stiff fight against the Illini. In the third period they threatened to make a close game of it as they carried the battle to the Illini and finally succeeded in shaking Ollie Cline loose on a 25-yard touchdown excursion down the sideline.

At that time, Illinois led only 14 to 7, but the Bucks couldn't keep up the pace. Illini quarterback Perry Moss whipped a 40-yard pass to halfback Chick Maggioni for a third touchdown, and Paul Patterson, sub halfback, broke away for a 32-yard scoring jaunt later.

Automatic Don Maetschle kicked all four extra points for Illinois. Emil Moldea, who defeated Northwestern a week earlier with his "extra period" kick, added Ohio's conversion.

In 1943, it took a post-season game between Denison and Miami to decide the mythical Ohio college football championship.

This year, the same two teams are coming down to the wire as the only unbeaten elevens in the state. Denison also is untied, while Miami was deadlocked by Dayton.

The Big Red hurdled its last important obstacle when it defeated Ohio Wesleyan, 18 to 6, Saturday. Denison meets Wittenberg this weekend, but only the year's biggest upset can prevent the Big Red from snatching the first perfect season in its history.

Miami spanked the University of Wichita, 22 to 7, and now rests until Thanksgiving when it tackles an old rival, Cincinnati.

Cincinnati took the lead in the Mid-American conference by edging Western Reserve, 7 to 6.

The Laurels for defense were clinched by Heidelberg when it finished a 7-and-1 season with only 35 points scored against it. The Student Princes wound up with a 9-to-0 victory over Wooster.

Heidelberg, Findlay and Wilberforce state share the once-beaten classification with Toledo. The Rockets have won eight, the latest being a 33-to-12 decision over South Dakota State.

ASHVILLE '5' WINS EASILY IN LOOP OPENER

Pettibone Plumbers crushed Groveport 51-25 in their initial Mid-Ohio League contest Saturday night in the high school gym at Ashville.

"Chuck" Pettibone led the Plumber scorers dropping in six field goals for 12 points. "Mac" Sims was high for the Groveport quintet with 9.

The Plumbers will travel to Gahanna Wednesday evening to play their second game in the newly-formed semi-pro league.

2. Who were the "Four Horsemen"?
3. Who was the "Galloping Ghost"?

Words of Wisdom
Calumny would soon starve and die if itself if nobody took it in and gave it a lodging.—Leighton.

Hints on Etiquette
If you send a gift for a wedding or other present and it is broken in the delivery; if it is mailed and insured, get damages from the post office; if delivered by the store where you bought it they must make it good. If it is not insured and the store was not at fault, you should replace it.

Today's Horoscope
You have good judgment, are a careful manager and a shrewd manipulator. Your ideas are practical and you consider all details before entering into any undertaking. You are affectionate, tender and dependable. Your friends rely on your judgment and have absolute faith in you, if this is your birthday. The day's vibrations are not very good. There may be difficulty where bosses or business affairs are concerned. Avoid temperamental or egotistical displays. "The neat," may be turned on. Your next year will be productive of some good fortune in spite of sudden upheavals and danger of indisposition of self and family. A valuable new friendship will materialize. Born on this date a child will enjoy some success and happiness in spite of thwarted ambitions and many obstacles in early life.

One-Minute Test Answers

national radio networks—American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, Mutual Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company—have announced that each of them will devote a number of their regularly scheduled programs, spaced through the next 12 months, to special broadcasts emphasizing the responsibility of all American citizens in the maintenance of their heritage.

The broadcasts will start in December and will continue, on all four networks, at intervals through the winter and spring months. Details of the special programs are now being worked out by the respective try Journal," "Invitation To Learning," and "Liberty Road-The American School Of The Air."

Special programs on the Mutual Broadcasting System, it was stated by Edgar Kobak, president, will be broadcast on the "American Forum Of The Air," "The Family Theater," "Meet The Press," "Meet Me At Parky's," "Racket Smashers," "Adventure Parade," and "Hospitality Club" programs, and also in a special program on Washington's birthday.

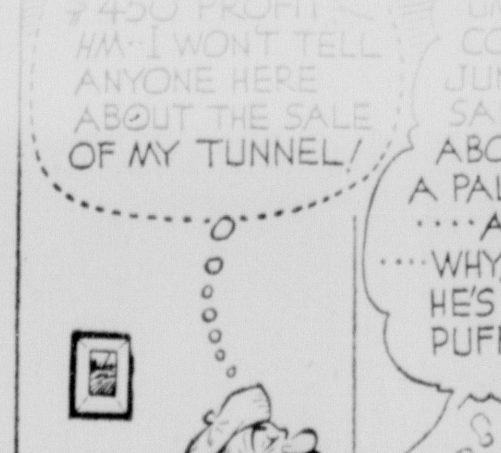

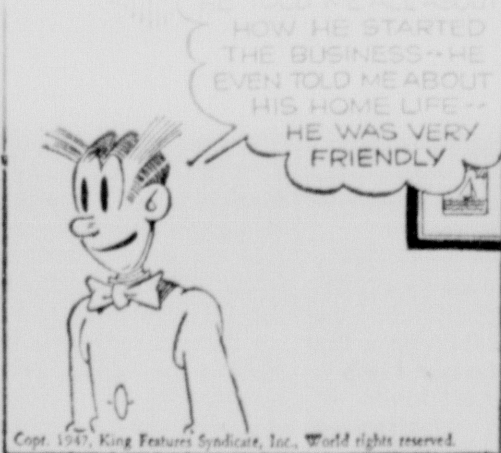

The American Broadcasting Company, according to Mark Woods, president, will present its share of the special broadcasts on its following regular programs, "America's Town Meeting," "The Paul Whiteman Show," "The Southernaires," "Youth Asks The Government," "Coast To Coast On A Bus," and the "U. S. Navy Band" broadcasts.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said that that network would present its "rededication" programs in the course of "People's Platform," "In My Opinion," "The Columbia Coun-munication, its heritage of freedom and liberty. It is composed of leaders in the fields of religion, industry, commerce, labor, education and communications, including William Green, president of the A. F. of L., Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, Philip Murray, president of the C. I. O., Winthrop W. Aldrich, Baner, and Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California.

One of its allied activities is the sponsorship of the "Freedom Train" now on a 30,000-mile tour of all the 48 states, carrying exhibits of some of America's most important historical documents.

"The Whistler," mystery-man of the CBS Wednesday night thriller series of the same name, last week worked two broadcasts, one to the east and one to the west coast, with but one eye "working." At dress rehearsal, the Whistler was struck in the left eye by the wad from a blank cartridge of a sound effects gun, but fortunately, only its lid was bruised. No time out

Words of Wisdom

Calumny would soon starve and die of itself if nobody took it in and gave it a lodging.—Leighton.

Hints on Etiquette

If you send a gift for a wedding or other present and it is broken in the delivery; if it is mailed and insured, get damages from the post office; if delivered by the store where you bought it they must make it good. If it is not insured and the store was not at fault, you should replace it.

Today's Horoscope

You have good judgment, are a careful manager and a shrewd manipulator. Your ideas are practical and you consider all details before entering into any undertaking. You are affectionate, tender and dependable. Your friends rely on your judgment and have absolute faith in you, if this is your birthday. The day's vibrations are not very good. There may be difficulty where bosses or business affairs are concerned. Avoid temperamental or egotistical displays. "The neat" may be turned on. Your next year will be productive of some good fortune in spite of sudden upheavals and danger of indisposition of self and family. A valuable new friendship will materialize. Born on this date a child will enjoy some success and happiness in spite of thwarted ambitions and many obstacles in early life.

national radio networks—American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, Mutual Broadcasting System and the National Broadcasting Company—have announced that each of them will devote a number of their regularly scheduled programs, spaced through the next 12 months, to special broadcasts emphasizing the responsibility of all American citizens in the maintenance of their heritage.

The broadcasts will start in December and will continue, on all four networks, at intervals through the winter and spring months. Details of the special programs are now being worked out by the respective network program and production departments.

The American Broadcasting Company, according to Mark Woods, president, will present its share of the special broadcasts on its following regular programs: "America's Town Meeting," "The Paul Whiteman Show," "The Southernaires," "Youth Asks The Government," "Coast To Coast On A Bus," and the "U. S. Navy Band" broadcasts.

Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said that that network would present its "rededication" programs in the course of "People's Platform," "In My Opinion," "The Columbia Coun-munication, its heritage of freedom and liberty. It is composed of leaders in the fields of religion, industry, commerce, labor, education and communications, including William Green, president of the A. F. of L., Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, Philip Murray, president of the C. I. O., Winthrop W. Aldrich, Baner, and Robert G. Sproul, president of the University of California.

One of its allied activities is the sponsorship of the "Freedom Train" now on a 30,000-mile tour of all the 48 states, carrying exhibits of some of America's most important historical documents.

The National Broadcasting Company, Niles Trammell, president, said, will schedule special "rededication" programs in the course of its "Our United Nations," "Story To Order," "Frank Merriwell," "Once Upon A Time," "Story Shop," "Home Is What You Make It," and the "Orchestras In The Nation" broadcasts.

The American Heritage Foundation was initiated by the Advertising Council, cooperating with President Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark, to bring home to the nation, through media of mass com-for medical aid could be taken until both broadcasts had been aired, as one follows the other immediately.

Christmas Shopping Already Underway, Survey Shows

Christmas shopping is already under way in Circleville and a survey of retail establishments Monday showed that merchants have assembled a wide assortment of attractive gift merchandise.

With only 31 more shopping days until Christmas, toy departments in the stores are bustling with activity.

The widest selection of toys from Santa Claus' workshop at the North Pole since before World War II is now available to bring Yuletide joy to the hearts of boys and girls.

Jolly old Kris Kringle has created many new and novel toys. Prices are higher than in past years, of course, just as prices are high for virtually all commodities.

The stores reported a definite trend to earlier shopping this season. The merchants voiced the hope that this trend will continue.

IT WAS POINTED out that early shoppers will have an opportunity to make their gift selections from a vast array of fresh, new merchandise.

Judging from the volume of early sales, store officials said, it is probable that last-minute Christmas shoppers will face dwindled stocks. That handicap will make selection of gifts difficult.

Merchants are unanimous in urging everyone to shop early and thus avoid the just-before-the-holiday rush.

Although not yet announced formally, it is probable that many stores will remain open Wednesday afternoons during December for the convenience of Yuletide gift hunters.

Delightful Books For Children Available At Circleville Library

The Circleville Public Library for Book Week-Nov. 16-23, has many delightful books for the very young, books whose text is entertaining, whose stories are simply told, and whose pictures have captured the essential spirit of childhood and its intrinsic joys.

There are such books as "Surprise for Davy," by Lois Lenski and illustrated by her. Here is the whole happy birthday of a four-year-old in gay pictures and text.

The "Thank-you" book by Franchoise has lovely illustrations of unusual color and design. It serves to express the thankfulness of a very small child for the daily pleasures he enjoys.

Margaret Wise Brown has three delightful books. "Good-Night Moon" is a bedtime book exquisitely done in which a very sleepy bunny says goodnight to all the things around him.

"THE WINTER NOISY BOOK" also by Brown, has all the noises of the winter season as heard by little Dog Muffin.

Miss Brown's "Sleepy Little Lion" uses actual photographs of a very small lion cub investigating as much of his world as he can stay awake to see.

"Little Book of Bedtime Songs," by Jeannette Brown and illustrated by Decie Merwin captures the spirit of youth in its well chosen songs and softened pictures.

"Polka Dot," by Charlotte Steiner is a charming little book of a little girl named Dot who loved polka dots so much that she wore them on her party dress, her bathing suit, even her underwear. She acquired pets that had dots too and entered them in a local pet show.

"Rain Drop Splash," by Alvin Tresselt, is illustrated by Leonard Weisgard. This book was the runner-up for the Caldecott medal given to the illustrator of the most distinguished book for children during the year.

A BOOK that combines both excellent narrative and remarkable pictures is Marcia Brown's "Stone Soup" an old folk tale retold. Another folk tale is Esther Slobodkina's "Caps for Sale," a story of a peddler whose caps were stolen by a band of mischievous monkeys.

H. A. Rey has a particularly good monkey subject in "Curious George Gets a Job." With the very best of intentions, George gets into all kinds of scrapes. Colored illustrations are bright and full of fun.

"The Little Horse That Never Grew Up," by Dorothy Wagstaff and illustrated by her is the true story of a boy and his pony.

"LITTLE AND Big," by Nell Smock is a dainty little book of contrasts, the young animal and the grown.

W. W. Robinson's book "Baby Animals" also little animals for its theme. It is a book of sheer delight for the nursery age and older ones.

Listed above are only a few of the books for children of preschool and primary ages to be found at the Circleville Public Library during Book Week.

SPEED COUNTS AT Milking Time

Faster milking, according to dairy tests, helps increase milk production. The gentle, thorough action of McCormick-Deering Milkers helps your cows let down their milk faster—and give more milk. McCormick-Deering Milkers also decrease the amount of strappings and help maintain healthy udders. Take good care of your milker. Ask us for suggestions on keeping it operating efficiently.

Foremilking reduces bacteria count and is a check on the health and condition of the udder. A uniform routine for time and order of milking is important.

Test cups on McCormick-Deering Milkers can be put in place quickly and the cow milked out quickly (3 or 4 minutes). Strip at once after removing the milker unit.
